

CeCe President: Professional BIO

Entrepreneur and International speaker, CeCe President helps passionate and determined leaders get the confidence and clarity they need to drive an organization that creates massive impact and serves customers at the highest levels.

Along with a master's degree in public administration, CeCe developed her insight into driving organizational growth and excellence as Director of Global Sales at AT&T and later as CEO of Clark Development Group, a real estate investment firm. Recently, CeCe served as Vice President of Global Partnerships for Motivating the Masses, a publicly traded training and development firm in California.

Always passionate about developing relationships, CeCe enjoys life as VP of Partnership Development for Presidential Consultants, Ohio's #1 Human Services training firm. With the firm's focus on leadership, diversity and workplace wellness, CeCe partners with organizations in the U.S. and abroad looking for evidence-based, assessment, training and advisory services.

CeCe is an avid volunteer, outspoken advocate, and a committed donor to various causes. CeCe serves as a board member for the Ronald McDonald House Charities of Northeast Ohio, Greater Cleveland Partnership and COSE, Cleveland's small business Chamber of Commerce. CeCe and her husband, company founder Anthony President, are native Clevelanders and proud alums of John Carroll University.